Certainly, you are not ignorant of that it is strike at the river. Then, you ought to be ashamed of yourselves to come here to work, robbing the bread from the men, who struggle for their existens and union. Your organized fellows in own country, no doubt, contempt you, condemn you, and you scandalize the flag of your free nation. Is it honorable to help the capitalist class in this way? Hawe you thought of that? If you have any bit of honor left, you have better go back again, leaving this work of damned black legs in a foreign country.

The striking union-men.
